

The Most Powerful Shop Management System for Industrial Apparatus Sales and Service

Experience You Can Trust

Born from a family business, Spring Point Solutions grew out of the need for a better way to manage electric motor repairs. In 1999, Jamie Stultz, fourth generation at Stultz Electric, joined forces with company controller Troy Locke. Together, they saw the limitations of existing software and decided to build their own. Their goal? To streamline inventory, job processing, and true cost analysis for motor repair shops.

What started as an internal solution at Stultz Electric in 1995, called MotorBase, evolved into something bigger. Unlike isolated software products, the Spring Point Suite of products thrives on continuous user feedback, particularly from those in operations. Over the past 25 years, co-founders, Troy, and Jamie have meticulously developed MotorBase, QM Wizard and other programs that make up the suite. Today, the Spring Point Suite represents industry best practices, continuously refined through customer experience.
